PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATING TO THE 1954 CENSUS OF BUSINESS

(From Title 13 United States Code)

SECTION 131. The Secretary shall take, compile, and publish censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades, service establishments, and transportation (exclusive of means of transportation for which statistics are required by law to be filed with, and are compiled and published by, a designated regulatory body), in the year 1954 and every fifth year thereafter, and each such census shall relate to the year immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, That the censuses of manufacturers, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades and service establishments, directed to be taken in the year 1954 relating to the year 1953, shall be taken instead in the year 1955 relating to year 1954. The censuses provided for in this section shall include the United States and its Territories and such Possessions as the Secretary may determine.

SECTION 224. Whoever, being the owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge, of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, neglects or refuses, when requested by the Secretary or other authorized officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, whether such request be made by registered mail, by telegraph, by visiting representative, or by one or more of these methods, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census or other schedule prepared and submitted to him under the authority of this title, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than sixty days, or both; and if he willfully gives a false answer to any such question, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 9. (a) Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, may . . . .

(1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or

(2) make any publication whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual under this title can be identified; or

(3) permit anyone other than the sworn officers and employees of the Department or bureau or agency thereof to examine the individual reports.

APPENDIX B

KIND OF BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION

Each retail establishment was assigned a kind-of-business classification, in accordance with the provisions of the 1949 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, as subsequently amended by the Bureau of the Budget for use in the 1954 Census of Business. The exclusion of milk dealers and the separation of "nonstore" retail establishments (as described below) from other retail establishments are amendments made subsequent to the 1949 edition. It should be noted that kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications. Food stores, for instance, sell commodities other than food, while food is sold in other kinds of stores than food stores.

The techniques used in classifying establishments by kind of business in the 1954 Census, as well as the items of information collected for classification purposes, differed from those of the 1948 and earlier Business Censuses. In the earlier Censuses it had been the practice to collect data on sales by merchandise lines from all establishments and establish a classification primarily based on the data so collected. In the 1954 Census a number of factors made it necessary to evolve a classification system based on other information. The system actually used was to ask each establishment to select and check the box which best described its kind of business and to provide a "Yes" or "No" answer with respect to the handling of specific merchandise lines. These questions were supplemented, where practicable, by requesting the establishment to report the percentage of total sales accounted for by certain key lines or commodities. The establishment's designation of its kind of business was accepted as correct, whenever the supporting information on merchandise lines handled (or on percent in specified lines) was consistent with the designation. The inquiries on the various retail forms with respect to merchandise lines handled are shown in Appendix I.

The problem of classification in the 1954 Business Census was somewhat complicated by the fact that establishments similar in character could have received different type census forms on which to report their 1954 businesses. This occurred because the classification information, on which the mailing of forms was based, was not always complete or sufficiently up-to-date in terms of what was needed for the final classification. While each of the report forms required the establishment to designate its kind of business, the supporting information which was requested necessarily varied from form to form. In some cases this undoubtedly resulted in different classifications being assigned similar establishments.

Because "nonemployers" were not required to prepare 1954 Business Census reports (information for them having been furnished by the Internal Revenue Service from 1954 tax returns) the system described above could not be used in classifying their returns. For the "nonemployers" the only information available for classification was the designation or description of the establishment entered on the tax form by the proprietor. This limitation precludes a comparison with 1948 data for certain kinds of business. (See Appendix E for a listing of all kinds of business for which data have been included in the census. Note that only data for those kinds of business preceded by an asterisk are comparable to 1948; data for other kinds of business are not comparable because "nonemployer" tax forms could not be classified in this detail.)

Also the handling of leased departments within retail stores (See Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses, item 7) would have an effect on certain kinds of business classifications even though the definition had not otherwise been changed. A statement mentioning leased departments is included in the definition for kinds of business when the 1948 Census definitions mentioned leased departments and in those classifications where the 1948 data indicate the change may be a significant factor in evaluating the data.

The difference in information collected and in the method of classifying establishments in the 1954 Business Census, as referred to above, led to some differences in the classification assigned as compared with the one which would have resulted from the previously used system. Although a precise measure of these differences is not available at this time, there is evidence that frequently the differences in the codes assigned tended to offset each other. Known factors which might cause differences in specific kinds of business as compared with past Censuses have been noted in the kind-of-business descriptions below.

The kinds of business defined below are arranged by groups, with special attention given to principal kinds of business within each group. Significant changes in definition since the 1948 Census of Business are noted.

Food Stores

The food group includes retail establishments primarily engaged in selling food for home preparation and consumption. Establishments primarily engaged in selling prepared food and drinks for consumption on their own premises are classified as eating and drinking places, and stores primarily engaged in selling packaged beers and liquors are classified separately as "Liquor stores."

In previous censuses, this group included dairies which processed and bottled milk and cream if the major portion of their sales was by route delivery to the homes of consumers. Such establishments are now included in the Census of Manufactures.

Food can be an important line of merchandise in stores other than those classified in a kind of business in the food group. This is particularly the case in "General stores" in the general merchandise group. Because the classifications in the 1954 Business Census forms relied on the establishment's own designation of its kind of business to a greater extent than in the 1948 Census, a shift between food store classifications and "General stores" was possible. A preliminary investigation indicates that this shift was in the direction of an increase in "General stores"; because of the large volume represented by the food group, whatever shift may have occurred would have a much smaller effect on the food group totals.

Shifts in classification between "Candy, nut, confectionery stores" in the food group and "Refreshment stands" in "Eating, drinking places" also could have resulted because of differences between 1948 and 1954 in classification information. The comparability of data for "Meat markets" in this bulletin as compared with the previously issued 1948 Census data is significantly affected by the treatment of leased departments as separate establishments rather than as parts of the establishments (main stores) within which they operate. The effect of the 1954 procedure has been to increase the "Meat market" figures. (This occurs because in a number of grocery stores, the meat department is operated as a leased department.) The same is true of "Fish (seafood) markets" and "Fruit stores, vegetable markets," figures for which tend to show an increase because of the separate classification of leased departments. Delicatessen stores are affected by the techniques used because there is no generally recognized definition of the term among retailers who think of themselves as being in this category. The general rule mentioned above for classifying establishments may have resulted in classifying some establishments as "Delicatessen stores" which in the 1948 Business Census would have been coded as "Grocery stores."

Grocery stores.—These stores are primarily engaged in selling at retail a wide variety of canned or frozen foods, such as vegetables, fruits, and soups, in addition to dry groceries, either packaged or in bulk, such as tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits, spices, sugar, flour, and crackers, and other processed food and nonedible grocery items. Smoked and prepared meats, and fresh fish and poultry, fresh vegetables and fruits are also often sold, as are fresh or frozen meats.

Meat markets.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh meats. They also may sell cured meats, poultry, fish, dairy products, eggs, and other commodities. These stores may butcher animals on their own account, or they may buy from others.

Fish (seafood) markets.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh or cured fish, oysters, shellfish, and other sea foods.

Fruit stores, vegetable markets.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh fruits and fresh vegetables. They are frequently found in public or municipal markets or are operated as roadside stands. Not included are stands operated by farmers selling only their own produce.

Candy, nut, confectionery stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling candy, nuts, sweetmeats, and other confections. Operation of a soda fountain or lunch counter is common. In the publications of the 1948 Census of Business, this classification included Vending machine operators if their principal lines of merchandise were candy, nuts, or other confections.

Bakery products stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling bakery products, such as bread, cakes, or pies, over the counter, whether or not the products are produced on the premises. Bakery products stores are divided into two categories, "Bakery products stores without baking on the premises," and "Bakery products stores with baking on the premises." Stores with baking on the premises which were operated by multiunit organizations were not included in Retail Trade in 1948, but are included in 1954. Bakery plants whose products are primarily distributed directly to household consumers by means of wagon routes are included in the Census of Manufactures.

Delicatessen stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling cooked foods, such as cooked meats, prepared salads, and baked beans, ready for consumption in the home without further preparation. They often carry canned and bottled goods, groceries, beer and wine, and tobacco products, and frequently serve meals.

Food stores, n.e.c.--These are establishments primarily engaged in selling at retail specialized lines of foods such as dairy products, eggs, poultry products, and health foods. In the publications of the 1948 Census of Business, this classification also included house-to-house coffee, tea, and spice distributors which are now included with the nonstore retailers.

Eating, Drinking Places

This group includes retail establishments selling prepared foods and drinks for consumption on the premises, and also refreshment stands. Eating and drinking places operated as leased departments within other places of business are included in this group (see Introduction, comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses, item 7). In the 1948 Census of Business, leased departments within retail businesses were treated as part of the establishment in which they were located.

Restaurants, cafeterias.--These are establishments primarily engaged in selling meals, both complete and short-order, and having either table or counter service or both. In the 1948 Census of Business, establishments selling only short-order meals and not having full table service were classified as "Lunch counters, refreshment stands."

Caterers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in the sale of food which they prepare but which is served elsewhere than on their own premises. The actual serving of the food at parties, etc., is usually a part of the service rendered.

In-plant food contractors.--These are establishments primarily engaged in the operation of employee restaurants and cafeterias in industrial plants, offices, etc. This classification does not include similar establishments when they are operated by the firm which operates the manufacturing plant. Although not separately identified in the 1948 Census, these establishments were included in the "Eating, Drinking Place" group in that year.

Refreshment stands.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling limited lines of refreshments such as fruit juices, soft drinks, ice cream. These establishments usually do not have facilities for seating customers either at tables or counters.

The classification "Refreshment stands" in the 1954 Business Census is not comparable with the 1948 Census classification "Lunch counters, refreshment stands" because of the shift of short-order eating places (lunch counters) to "Eating places (except refreshment stands)" in the 1954 classification. (See Food Stores, above, for possible shifts between "Candy, nut, confectionery stores" and "Eating places" classifications.)

Drinking places.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling alcoholic drinks such as beer, ale, wine, liquor and other alcoholic beverages for consumption on their own premises. These establishments are often known as bars, beer gardens, cabarets, night clubs, cocktail lounges, saloons, tap rooms, etc. The sale of food for consumption on the premises frequently accounts for a substantial portion of the receipts of these establishments.

General Merchandise Group

This group includes stores usually selling a combination of two or more of the following merchandise lines: Dry goods, apparel and accessories, furniture and home furnishings, small wares, hardware and food. Among the kinds of business included in this group are those commonly known as department stores, variety ("5 and 10", etc.) stores, and general stores. (See Food Stores, above, and Apparel, Accessories Stores, below, for further discussion involving general merchandise stores.)

Department stores.--These are retail stores carrying a general line of apparel, such as suits, coats, dresses, and furnishings; home furnishings, such as furniture, floor coverings, curtains, draperies, linen, major household appliances, and housewares such as table and kitchen appliances, dishes, and utensils. These and other merchandise lines are normally arranged in separate sections or departments with the accounting on a departmentalized basis. The departments and functions are integrated under a single management. Establishments included in this classification must normally employ 25 or more persons.

Dry goods, general merchandise stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling piece goods, or a combination of men's and women's apparel, dry goods, hardware, homewares or home furnishings, etc. Yarn and notion shops are included in this category. Stores selling commodities covered by the definition of "Department stores," but normally having fewer than 25 employees, are also included in this industry.

General stores.--These are retail establishments usually located in rural communities and primarily engaged in selling a general line of merchandise of which the most important line is food, and the more important subsidiary lines are notions, apparel, farm supplies, and gasoline. These stores are usually known as country general stores. (See Food Stores, above, for discussion of possible shifts between General Stores and Food Stores classifications.)

Variety stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling a variety of merchandise in the low and popular price ranges, such as stationery, gift items, women's accessories, toilet articles, light hardware, toys, housewares, confectionery, etc. These stores frequently are known as "5 and 10 cents" stores and "5 cents to a dollar" stores, although merchandise is usually sold outside these price ranges. Sales usually are made on a cash-and-carry basis, with the open selling method of display and customer selection of merchandise.

Apparel, Accessories Stores

This group includes stores primarily engaged in selling clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment.

Because apparel and apparel accessories are important lines in many "general merchandise" stores, analyses of the apparel trades should take into consideration data for both "general merchandise" and "apparel" stores. This is especially important when comparisons with the 1948 Census are made, because of shifts in classification which could have resulted from differences in the classification procedures of the two censuses.

Shoe stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling shoes. The group includes men's shoe stores; women's shoe stores; family shoe stores; and children's, juveniles' shoe stores. Family shoe stores are primarily engaged in selling footwear for men, women, children, and infants without specializing in any one line. The other classifications specialize in the line indicated by the title.

It is probable that some stores selling relatively small amounts of a merchandise line other than that in which they specialize would have been classified as "men's" or "women's" shoe stores in the 1948 Business Census, but as "Family shoe stores" in the 1954 Census.

In the 1948 Census, this classification did not include shoe leased departments operating in retail establishments classified in other kinds of business. In the 1954 Census, such shoe departments are included in this classification. (See Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses, item 7, for discussion of the possible effect of this change.)

Men's, boys' clothing stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling men's and boys' overcoats, topcoats, suits, and work clothing. Hats, shoes, accessories, and furnishings (such as shirts, gloves, hosiery, and underwear) are frequently but not always carried.

Men's, boys' furnishings stores.--These are retail establishments specializing in the sale of men's and boys' shirts, hats, underwear, hosiery, gloves, and other furnishings.

Family clothing stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling clothing, furnishings, and accessories for men, women, and children, without specializing in any one line.

Women's ready-to-wear stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling women's coats, suits, and dresses.

Millinery stores.--These are establishments primarily engaged in selling ready-to-wear and custom made millinery, including women's hat frames and trimmings. In the 1948 Census this classification did not include millinery leased departments operating in retail establishments classified in other kinds of business. In the 1954 Census, such departments are included in this classification.

Women's clothing specialty stores, n.e.c.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling women's miscellaneous apparel and accessories, such as blouses, knit goods, gloves, handbags, and costume jewelry. Also included in this classification are establishments selling specialized lines of women's apparel not elsewhere classified, such as hosiery, corset, and lingerie stores.

Children's and infants' wear stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling children's and infants' clothing, furnishings, and accessories. Such establishments may specialize in either children's or infants' wear or they may sell a combination of children's and infants' wear.

Apparel stores, n.e.c.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling specialized lines of apparel and accessories not elsewhere classified, such as raincoats, bathing suits, riding apparel, and umbrellas. Establishments primarily engaged in making and selling men's and women's outer clothing to individual order from stocks of material carried on their shelves are included in this classification, as are those establishments selling ready-made fur coats and other fur apparel or combinations of custom and ready-made fur apparel.

Furniture, Home Furnishings, Appliance Dealers

This group includes stores primarily engaged in selling goods used for furnishing the home, such as furniture, floor coverings, draperies, glass and chinaware, domestic stoves, refrigerators, and other household electrical and gas appliances, including radio and TV sets.

Establishments selling electrical and gas appliances are included in this group only if the major part of their sales consist of articles for home use. Dealers primarily engaged in selling second-hand furniture are classified as "Second-hand stores."

Furniture stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling household furniture. These stores may also sell home furnishings, major appliances, and floor coverings. Establishments primarily engaged in selling office furniture are classified in Wholesale Trade.

Floor covering stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling floor coverings of various kinds, among the more important of which are rugs, carpets, linoleum, and synthetic material tiles. Contractors primarily engaged in the installation of floor coverings are not included in this classification even though their contracts, in some cases, call for them to provide the floor coverings as part of the contractual service.

Home furnishings stores, n.e.c., antique stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling such commodities as: antique furniture and home furnishings and objects of art; draperies, curtains and upholstering materials; china, glassware, crockery, tinware, etc., for kitchen and table use; pictures, frames, lamps and shades, awnings, window shades, venetian blinds, tents, flags, and banners.

Household appliance, radio, TV stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling household appliances, such as electric and gas refrigerators, stoves, vacuum cleaners, washing machines and dryers, freezers, electric irons, percolators, hot plates, etc., and radios, television sets, and record players. Included in this group are the retail establishments operated by public utilities when the establishments are primarily engaged in the selling of electric and gas appliances for household use.

In using the data for the detailed kind of business classification it should be borne in mind that many of the stores which specialize in the sale of radios and television sets also sell some appliances and that the same overlapping is common to those stores specializing in selling household appliances.

Automotive Group

This group includes dealers selling new and used automobiles, new parts and accessories, aircraft, motorboats, motorcycles, and automobile trailers. Establishments primarily selling trucks and motorized industrial equipment are, for Census purposes, classified as wholesale establishments.

The 1954 kind-of-business titles "Passenger car dealers (franchised)" and "Passenger car dealers (nonfranchised)" replace the titles "Motor-vehicle (new and used) dealers" and "Motor-vehicle (used) dealers," used in the 1948 Census of Business publications. However, the classifications they cover are not entirely identical because in the 1954 Business Census certain auxiliary activities (e.g., operation of used car lots) of franchised dealers were not recognized as separate establishments but were consolidated with the establishment at which the principal activity was conducted. The effect of this change would be to include in "Passenger car dealers (franchised)" receipts of activities which otherwise would have been classified as "Passenger car dealers (nonfranchised)" or in the Service Trades as "Auto repair."

Passenger car dealers (franchised).--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling new automobiles, or new and used automobiles and trucks. These dealers frequently operate repair shops and used car lots and may carry stocks of replacement parts, tires, batteries, and automotive accessories.

Passenger car dealers (nonfranchised).--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling used cars and trucks, and not holding a franchise for the sale of new passenger cars.

Tire, battery, accessory dealers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling automobile tires, batteries, automobile seat covers, and other automobile parts and accessories. Such establishments frequently have facilities for tire recapping and vulcanizing. Establishments dealing primarily in used merchandise are classified as "Second-hand stores."

Motorcycle, aircraft, boat dealers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling new or used motorcycles, aircraft for private (noncommercial) use, and motorboats, yachts, and other water craft. Dealers selling parts and supplies for these products to private (noncommercial) users are included in this classification.

Household trailer dealers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling household trailers.

Automobile dealers, n.e.c.--These are retail automotive establishments, not elsewhere classified.

Gasoline Service Stations

Gasoline service stations include establishments primarily engaged in selling gasoline and other automotive petroleum products. Business places called "garages" but deriving the larger part of receipts from gasoline and oil sales are included. Gasoline service stations also sell tires and tubes, other automobile accessories, and sometimes lunches, candy, tobacco, and groceries. These establishments often perform some service and repair work in addition to their sales of merchandise.

Lumber, Building Materials, Hardware, Farm Equipment Dealers

This group includes establishments selling lumber, building materials, and basic lines of hardware, such as tools, builders' hardware, paint and glass, electrical supplies, roofing materials, and other equipment and supplies for home construction. The group also includes farm equipment dealers. Establishments in this group sell to contractors as well as to the general public.

The classifications "Heating and plumbing equipment dealers" and "Electrical supply stores" presented separately in the 1948 Census of Business have been combined into the classification "Plumbing, electrical supply stores." The difficulty experienced in segregating these establishments from closely related kinds of business in Wholesale Trade and Contract Construction even under ideal conditions, makes it quite probable that this classification is not comparable with the sum of the two which it replaces.

These classifications include establishments selling primarily to home owners, farmers, builders, general contractors and special trades contractors. In the 1948 Census, establishments of this type which sold primarily to builders and general contractors were classified in Wholesale Trade.

Farm equipment dealers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling farm tractors, reapers, mowers, plows, wagons, and related farm equipment. These establishments may sell a combination of basic lines of hardware, such as tools, builders' hardware, housewares, cutlery and related lines.

Lumber, building materials dealers.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling lumber, millwork, and other building materials such as brick and tile, cement, cinder blocks, sand and gravel, fencing materials, storm doors and windows, wallboard and roofing materials.

Paint, glass, wallpaper stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling paint, glass, and wallpaper or any combination of these lines. Establishments primarily engaged in installing glass are included in Selected Service Trades and not here.

Plumbing, electrical supply stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling plumbing supplies and heating and air conditioning equipment or electrical appliances. Stores primarily engaged in selling electrical appliances are included with "Household appliance, radio, TV stores." See discussion above, regarding comparability with data from previous Censuses.

Hardware stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling a number of basic hardware lines, such as tools, builders' hardware, paint and glass, housewares and household appliances, cutlery, and roofing materials. These establishments may also sell farm implements.

Drug Stores, Proprietary Stores

Stores in this group sell drugs or proprietary medicines usually in combination with lines such as cosmetics, toiletries, tobacco, magazines and books, and novelty merchandise. However, to be classified as a drug store, the establishment must sell prescriptions.

Other Retail Stores

This group consists of establishments primarily engaged in selling, at retail, specialized lines of merchandise such as jewelry, liquor, feed, farm and garden supplies, books, sporting goods, gifts, novelties, souvenirs, music, cameras, photographic supplies, orthopedic supplies and artificial limbs, pets, hobby equipment, toys, religious goods, and monuments and tombstones. Greenhouses and nurseries are not within scope of the census; however, florist shops are included.

Liquor stores.--Liquor stores are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling (at retail) packaged alcoholic beverages such as ale, beer, wine, and whiskey for consumption off the premises. Liquor stores operated by States, counties, and municipalities are included. Stores selling prepared drinks for consumption on the premises are classified as "Drinking places."

Fuel dealers (coal, wood).--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling (at retail) coal, coal and wood, or a combination of the lines of coal, wood, bottled gas, fuel oil, and ice.

Liquefied petroleum gas dealers.--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling liquefied petroleum gas at retail, either in bulk or bottled.

Fuel oil dealers.--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling fuel oil at retail. Dealers primarily engaged in selling fuel oil burners are classified as "Plumbing, electrical supply stores." Dealers primarily engaged in installing and servicing fuel oil burners are not included in the Census of Business.

Ice dealers.--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling ice at retail.

Hay, grain, feed stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling at retail hay, grain, and feed. These stores may also sell fertilizer. Stores primarily engaged in selling farm implements are classified as "Farm equipment dealers."

Farm, garden supply stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) seeds, bulbs, and nursery stock, and other farm, lawn, and garden supplies and tools not elsewhere classified, such as harness, irrigation and drainage equipment, and fertilizer. Stores primarily engaged in selling farm implements are classified as "Farm equipment dealers." Greenhouses and nurseries are not included in the 1954 Business Census.

Jewelry stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) any combination of the lines of jewelry such as diamonds and other precious stones mounted in precious metals, as rings, bracelets, and brooches; sterling and plated silverware; and watches and clocks. Stores primarily engaged in watch and jewelry repair are classified in the Service Trades.

Book stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) new books and magazines. Sales of book clubs, previously included in this classification are not included in the 1954 Census of Business. Data for book clubs are included in the Census of Manufactures.

Stationery stores.--Stationery stores are primarily engaged in selling (at retail) stationery, such as paper and paper products (including printing and engraving), writing supplies, accounting and legal forms, school supplies, post cards, and novelties. Stores specializing in the sale of artists' supplies are classified in "All other retail stores."

Sporting goods stores.--These stores are primarily engaged in selling (at retail) sporting goods and equipment including gymnasium and playground equipment, firearms and ammunition, hunters' and fishermen's equipment, golf goods and equipment, tennis goods and equipment, riding goods and equipment, camping equipment, and skiing equipment.

Bicycle stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) bicycles and bicycle parts and accessories. Stores primarily engaged in repairing bicycles or renting bicycles are included in the Service Trades.

Florists.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) cut flowers and growing plants. Stores primarily engaged in selling bulbs and nursery stock are classified as "Farm, garden supply stores." Greenhouses and nurseries are not included in the 1954 Census of Business.

Cigar stores, stands.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and smokers' supplies. These stores may or may not operate a soda fountain. Included in this classification are cigar stands operated as concessions in poolrooms, bowling alleys, drive-in theaters, railway stations, hotels, and other public places. In the publications of the 1948 Census of Business this classification also included Vending machine operators primarily selling cigars and cigarettes. These are now separately classified within "Nonstore Retailers."

News dealers, newsstands.--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling (at retail) newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals. Newspaper subscription offices, and distributing offices are not included in the Census of Business. Newsstands selling newspapers only were not included in the 1948 Census of Business but are included in 1954 providing they met the total sales volume requirements. Individuals selling newspapers either by delivery to the home or on the street are also included in this classification in 1954 if they met the sales volume requirement. In 1948 this group would have been omitted because they did not maintain a recognizable place of business.

Gift, novelty, souvenir stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) combined lines of gift and novelty merchandise, souvenirs, small art goods, greeting cards, paper novelties, and holiday decorations.

Music stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) musical instruments such as pianos, violins, horns, reed instruments, drums, sheet music, and phonograph records. Many of these stores also sell record players and radio and TV sets; however, if sales are primarily of these latter items, the establishments are classified with "Household appliance, radio, TV stores."

Camera, photographic supply stores.--These are establishments primarily engaged in selling (at retail) cameras, films, and other photographic supplies and equipment. Establishments primarily engaged in finishing films are classified in the Service Trades.

Luggage, leather goods stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling trunks, hand luggage, and other leather items.

Optical goods stores.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) eyeglasses and related optical and ophthalmic goods, such as binoculars and reading glasses. Some of these stores may have prescription departments.

Office, store machine and equipment dealers.--These are dealers primarily engaged in selling typewriters at retail. They may also sell other office machines and equipment. Dealers primarily engaged in selling office machines and equipment other than typewriters are classified in Wholesale Trade.

Retail stores (except second-hand), n.e.c.--These are stores primarily engaged in selling (at retail) specialized lines of merchandise not elsewhere classified, such as autograph and philatelist supplies, orthopedic supplies and artificial limbs, rubber stamps, pets, hobby equipment, toys, religious goods, and monuments and tombstones.

Second-hand stores.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling used merchandise. Many dealers classified in this group do repair work both in preparing their own merchandise for resale and upon customers' goods. Establishments deriving the major portion of their gross income from service and repair work are classified in the Service Trades. Used car dealers are classified in the "Automotive Group."

Nonstore Retailers

In the 1954 Census, for the first time, the "nonstore" type of retail establishment has been classified on the basis of its method of selling and isolated from the "store" type. "Nonstore" retail establishments, like the "store" type of establishment, are primarily engaged in the selling of merchandise to personal, household, or farm users. However, the "nonstore" type is distinguished by the fact that the customer does not make his purchases at the establishment site. Instead, the purchase is made at the customer's home, at the site of another business establishment, or by mail order.

The three types of retail establishments in which customer purchases are made in this manner are door-to-door distributors, operators of merchandise vending machines, and mail-order houses. In the 1948 and prior Censuses, these establishments were classified in one of the major "store" type group defined above, on the basis of commodities handled. The 1948 figures shown in this report have been revised to make them comparable with the 1954 figures with respect to the "nonstore" establishments.

Mail Order Houses.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise by mail order. They may furnish their customers with a catalog describing and pricing their merchandise or they may receive their orders as a result of advertisements in magazines, newspapers, and other media. The establishments are subdivided into the various classifications under Mail Order Houses on the basis of the merchandise which they handle in the same manner as was done in the store type classifications.

Direct Selling (house-to-house) Organizations.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise by house-to-house canvass. In general, sales are made at the customer's home by company salesmen or self-employed canvassers who deliver the goods at the time of the sale or who take orders for future delivery on a return trip or by some form of public carrier.

The count of direct-selling establishments in the 1954 Census of Business was made on a different basis from that used in the 1948 Census. In the 1954 Census, individuals who were self-employed and were engaged in the house-to-house distribution of products obtained from large direct-selling organizations were counted as separate direct-selling "establishments." Because such individuals generally had no recognizable place of business, they could not have been identified in a field enumeration such as was conducted for the 1948 Census but were accounted for by the procedures of the 1954 Census (see Introduction, Method of Enumeration). In the 1948 Census, the sales of such "establishments" were accounted for through the enumeration of the district office of the large direct-selling organizations. The use of the device of counting the district office as the "establishment" rather than counting each of the self-employed canvassers, as in 1954, causes the 1948 establishment counts to be noncomparable with those for 1954. A large part of difference between the 3,236 direct-selling establishments in 1948 and the 70,774 in 1954 is accounted for by this factor.

(Note: This difference in 1948 and 1954 approaches had no effect on those direct-selling organizations which distribute through their own employees rather than through self-employed canvassers. The effect of the difference in approach with respect to the organizations operating through self-employed canvassers is substantially confined to the count of establishments and does not significantly affect the dollar volume of sales attributed to the direct-selling category of business.)

The establishments are subdivided into the various classifications under Direct Selling (house-to-house) Organizations on the basis of the merchandise which they handle in the same manner as has been done in the store-type classifications.

Merchandise Vending Machine Operators.--These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling various food and confectionery items, tobacco products and other merchandise through coin-operated vending machines.

Establishments were subdivided into the various classifications within this group on the basis of the commodities sold in the machines which they reported as on location at the end of 1954.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Establishments.--Census of Business figures represent a summary of reports for individual establishments rather than for companies. A separate report was obtained for each location where business was conducted, including each location of multiunit organizations. Each report in the census was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted. Although the tabulations of the census are on an establishment rather than ownership basis, in certain tables the establishment figures are grouped into ownership categories. This will be the case in the "Single Units and Multiunits" chapter of Volume I, Retail Trade and in a planned company statistics bulletin covering company activities in all parts of the 1954 Censuses of Business, Manufactures, and Mineral Industries.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single establishment, the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity and all data for it included in that classification. However, when these activities were conducted by separate business entities, each entity was treated as an establishment. Thus, a leased department in a department store was treated as a separate establishment and is included in these tabulations on the basis of its activities rather than as a part of the store within which it operates. (See Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses, item 7.)

Figures for those locations of a multiunit organization which service or are auxiliary to the retail stores of the organization, such as separate warehouses, administrative offices, etc. are included only in chapter 6 of this volume. In the 1948 Business Census, figures for such units, where included in the tabulations, were separately identified.

Sales.--Sales are defined to include total receipts from customers during 1954, after deduction of refunds or allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Sales include receipts from repairs and from other services to customers, as well as the sale of merchandise, but exclude amounts other than those received from customers, such as income from investments, and rental of real estate. They include the amount of local and State sales taxes or Federal excise taxes which are collected by the store directly from customers, and paid directly by the store to a local, State, or Federal taxing agency. Gasoline, liquor, tobacco, and other excise taxes which are paid by the manufacturer or wholesaler and passed along to the retailer also are included.

The sales figures, therefore, represent total sales and receipts of all establishments primarily engaged in retail trade. They do not include retail sales made by manufacturing, wholesale, and service establishments, and other establishments whose primary activity is other than retail trade. They do, however, include receipts other than from the sale of merchandise at retail (e. g., service receipts, sales to industrial users, sales to other retailers, etc.) by establishments primarily engaged in retail trade.

Payroll, entire year.--Payroll includes all forms of compensation (salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, and payments in kind) paid during the year to all employees. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; however, it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Included in payroll are the value of payments in kind, such as free meals, lodgings, etc., received by employees from their employers but not amounts received by employees as tips, etc. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, insurance dues, etc.

Payroll--workweek ended nearest November 15.--This item consists of payroll, as defined above, which was paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1954. Establishments whose payroll period was other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Paid employees--workweek ended nearest November 15.--Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest November 15.

Full workweek employees.--Full workweek employees include employees, whether regular or seasonal who, for the specified pay period, were paid for working at least the number of hours typically worked in a week by employees of the reporting establishment. All other employees paid during that workweek were reported as part-workweek employees.

Proprietors of unincorporated businesses.--This item includes owners or partners of unincorporated businesses who devoted the major portion of their time to the operation of the business.

City Size.--Each establishment included in the 1954 Census of Business was classified into one of nine city-size groups, based on the number of inhabitants in the city in which the establishment was located. City size was determined by the 1950 Census of Population count, except for places which had special censuses taken by the Bureau of the Census between April 1, 1950, and September 15, 1954. The group entitled "Remainder of United States" includes all establishments located in incorporated cities of less than 2,500 inhabitants and in rural areas.

Standard Metropolitan Areas.--In addition to those for States, counties, and cities, Census of Business statistics are presented for standard metropolitan areas. These are areas which have been defined and established cooperatively by a number of interested Federal agencies under the direction of the Bureau of the Budget for purposes of compilation and presentation of a wide variety of statistical data on a uniform area basis.

The general concept adopted in defining a standard metropolitan area was that of an integrated economic area with a large volume of daily travel and communication between a central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and the outlying parts of the area. This resulted in an area considerably more restricted, especially for the larger cities, than the "market" or "trading" area. Each area (except in New England) consists of one or more entire counties. In New England, metropolitan areas have been defined on a town basis rather than a county basis. A complete statement of the principles adopted as a guide in applying this general concept to the definition of individual areas will be found in a document issued by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President, dated July 28, 1950, entitled "Standard Metropolitan Area Definitions."

The 173 standard metropolitan areas in continental United States and Hawaii for which 1954 Census of Business data are included in this volume are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget as of June 8, 1954. (See Appendix G.)

Sales-Size.--Sales-size analyses of the 1954 Census of Business data are shown only for "establishments operated entire year." Establishments which operated 10 months or more during the year and which were in operation at the end of the year are classified as entire-year establishments. In the 1948 Census however, all establishments which began operations after January 1, 1948, were classified as part-year. This difference in classification practices in the two censuses, plus the effect of the exclusion in 1954 of a large proportion of part-year reports resulting from raising the minimum size for inclusion in the census (see Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses) accounts for more than half of the marked reduction in the number of establishments shown as "not operated entire year" in 1954 as compared with 1948. In both the 1954 and 1948 Censuses, seasonal establishments which normally operate for only a part of the year, are treated as "entire year" or "not entire year" on the basis of the length of time during the Census year that the establishment was in business.

For purposes of sales-size tabulations, the full-year establishments have been classified into sales-size groups depending on the volume of sales and receipts reported for the year 1954.

Establishments were classified by sales-size group after the reported sales and receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. This method differs from that used in the 1948 Census of Business, when establishments were assigned to sales-size intervals on the basis of their reported unrounded sales and receipts. This change in methodology affects the lower size classes significantly, but has little effect on the upper size classes. The change in minimum size of establishment from $500 in 1948 to $2,500 in 1954 (see Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses,) also affects the lower sales-size intervals. Comparisons between the 1948 and 1954 sales-size tabulations should take these two factors into account, particularly for the lower size classes. Comparison of 1948 and 1954 sales-size distributions also should take into consideration differences in classification between the 1948 and 1954 Census as discussed in Appendix B, KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION.

Employment Size.—Employment-size analyses of 1954 Census of Business data are shown only for "establishments operated entire year." Establishments which operated 10 months or more during the year and which were in operation at the end of the year are classified as "entire-year" establishments. Seasonal businesses owned the entire year (as defined above) were also classified as "entire year" establishments, and their employment size measured by the number of paid employees on the payroll during the week of November 15. Year-round establishments operated less than 10 months during the year were not distributed by employment size, but were included with "Establishments not operated entire year." In 1948, all establishments, regardless of the number of months operated, were included in the tabulations on the basis of the number of employees as of the week of November 15. Active proprietors and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in establishing employment size.

In making comparisons with employment size tabulations in the 1948 Census of Business publications, the following changes in methodology, each of which had a significant effect on the 1954 tabulations, should be taken into account:

(1) In 1948, part-year establishments were distributed in the "employment-size" tabulations on the basis of their employment during the workweek ended nearest November 15. In 1954, they have not been so distributed among the various size classes. A special study of the part-year reports indicates that about one-third of these establishments would fall in the size group having "0" employees and most of the remainder in the size groups having fewer than 20 employees.

(2) In 1954, self-employed persons engaged in direct selling have been classified as "establishments" with no paid employees. There are approximately 60,000 such "establishments" included in the 1954 tabulations. In 1948 such persons, in most cases, were included as employees of the firms which they represented.

(3) In 1948, all establishments having sales of $500 or more were included in the census tabulations. In 1954, establishments which had no payroll during the year were excluded from the tabulations if their receipts were less than $2,500. In 1948, there were approximately 98,000 establishments with no payroll and receipts of $500 to $2,500 included in the tabulations. These factors had a significant effect on the "number of establishment" figures shown in the "no paid employee" class and in the smaller size classes of establishments with paid employees. Major factors affecting the establishment counts for the larger size classes of establishments with paid employees were (a) item 2 above (i. e., a number of direct-selling businesses, which in the 1948 Census were reported as large establishments at the district or regional localities from which their operations were conducted, in the 1954 Census were represented by large numbers of "self-employed" persons each of whom was classified as a separate establishment), and (b) by the shift of milk dealers from Retail Trade (see Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses, item 3), (c) by the separate classification of leased departments (see Introduction, Comparison of 1954 and 1948 Censuses, item 7), and (d) by the changes in establishments reporting arrangements for automotive dealers (see "Automotive Group" in Appendix B, KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION).

Single Units and Multinunts.—An establishment is classified as a single unit if it is operated by a firm which operates only one establishment, or no other establishment in the same general kind of business as the establishment concerned. An establishment is classified as a multiunit if it is one of two or more establishments in the same general kind of business operated by the same firm. The following listing indicates the kind-of-business groupings made for this purpose. Kinds of business not listed below are not, for this purpose, considered to be related to any other kind of business.

1. "Food stores" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of food items.
2. "Eating and drinking places."
3. "General merchandise group" stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of general merchandise.
4. "Apparel, accessories stores" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of apparel and/or accessories.
5. "Furniture, home furnishings, appliance dealers" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of furniture, home furnishings and/or appliances.
6. "Automotive group" dealers, "Gasoline service stations" and mail order automotive merchandise establishments.
7. "Lumber, building materials, hardware, farm equipment dealers" and mail order lumber, building materials, hardware establishments.
8. "Drug stores, proprietary stores" and mail order proprietary medicine establishments.
9. "Fuel, ice dealers."
10. "Hay, grain, feed stores," "Farm, garden supply stores" and mail order feed and farm and garden supply establishments.
11. "Jewelry stores" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of jewelry.
12. "Book stores, stationery stores" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of books and/or stationery.
13. "Sporting goods, bicycle stores" and mail order sporting goods establishments.
14. "Cigar stores, stands" and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of tobacco and tobacco products.
15. "Gifts, novelties, souvenir stores" and mail order establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of gifts, novelties, and souvenirs.
16. "Music stores" and mail order establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of musical instruments.
17. "Camera, photographic supply stores" and mail order camera, photographic supply establishments.

The term "single unit" as used in this report includes the establishments of "one establishment firms" which are firms operating only one retail establishment. It also includes for "multi-establishment firms," those establishments in classifications in which the firm operates no other establishments. For example, a firm operates three retail stores: a grocery store, a hardware store, and a cigar store. All three of these stores are classified as single units in the tabulation in this report.

Legal Form of Organization.--All retail establishments included in the 1954 Census of Business were classified into one of the following forms of organization:

(1) Individual proprietorship.--These are establishments owned by one person.

(2) Partnership.--These are establishments owned by two or more persons, each of whom has a financial interest in and responsibility for the business.

(3) Corporation.--These are establishments owned by an organization or company legally incorporated under State laws. In the 1948 Census of Business, cooperatives incorporated under either the regular or special corporation laws of the States were classified as corporations. In the 1954 tabulations a separate legal-form classification was established for cooperatives.

(4) Cooperatives.--A retail cooperative store is defined as one owned by an association of consumers of the merchandise handled by the store. Most are incorporated under State cooperative association laws. In general, the distinguishing features of a cooperative are patronage dividends based on the volume of purchases by the member, and a limitation of one vote per member regardless of the amount of stock owned. The stores are open to the public, as a rule, but generally are patronized primarily by members of the association operating the business.

(5) Other legal forms.--These are establishments whose legal form of organization is not one of those defined above. Included in this legal form are liquor stores owned or operated by State, county or municipal governments, and other miscellaneous ownership types such as estates, receiverships, etc. In the publications of the 1948 Census of Business, cooperatives not incorporated under the regular corporation laws or under special cooperative association laws were also included in this category. In the 1954 tabulations they are classified as "Cooperatives."

In the tabulations in this report, "corporations," "cooperatives," and "other legal forms" as defined above have been combined and presented under the title "Other legal forms." This combination was made in order to reduce to a minimum the number of cells for which it would be necessary to withhold data to avoid disclosing the operations of a single business.

Comparisons between the 1954 and 1948 tabulations by legal form of organization should take into account the changes in classification discussed above, and also the difference in rules regarding minimum size of establishment included in the tabulations which affects the "Individual Proprietorship" and "Partnership" forms of organization. (See Introduction, Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses.)

Leased departments.--For census purposes, a leased department is a separately owned business operated as a department of a retail establishment. However, the tabulations in this volume include only those leased departments which operated within a main store which had some payroll during the year 1954.

Central administrative offices, warehouses, and other auxiliary units of retail establishments.--These are locations of a multi-unit organization which service or are auxiliary to the retail stores within the organization. They do not ordinarily sell merchandise at retail. They are classified into the following groups:

Central Administrative Offices.--These are locations such as central offices, executive offices, and district offices which are engaged in performing administrative functions for the retail stores within the same multiunit organization. Locations having other functions in addition to administrative functions are included in this group.

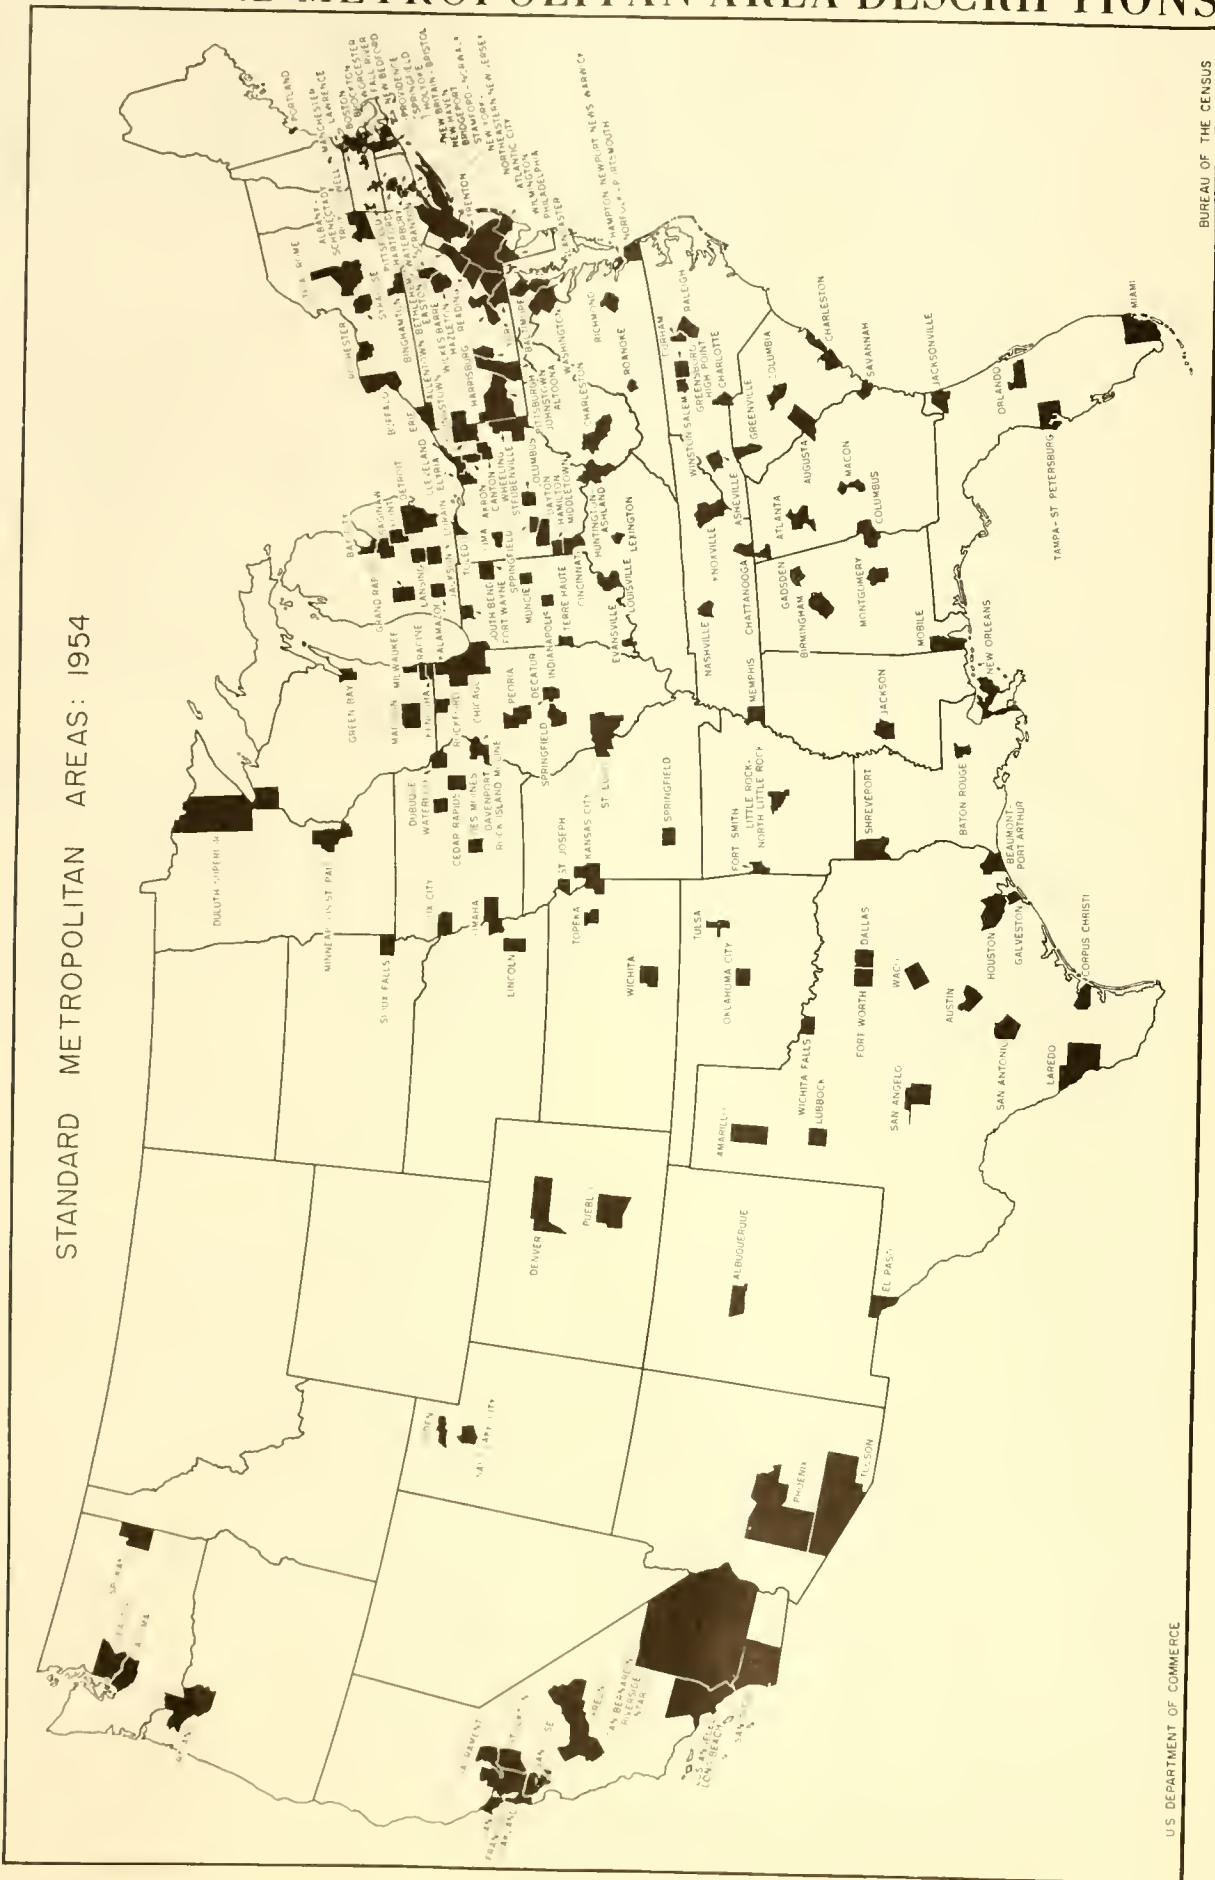

Warehouses.--These are locations which maintain a supply of merchandise and which are engaged in distributing that merchandise to retail stores of the same organization. This differs from the 1948 Census tabulations, in which all locations engaged in warehousing activities were included in this category.

Other auxiliary units.--These are locations such as buying offices, garages, receiving or shipping offices, etc., which are engaged in performing auxiliary functions other than warehousing and administration for the retail stores in the same organization.
